President's Decision Upsets Students

The decision was made on Friday, January 16, by Dr. Adams and his cabinet to close Wise Hall. Bud Robinson had already been closed. The reason for the closings is basically money, or the lack of it. Dr. Adams has pointed out that Trevecca will save over five thousand dollars, but is saving five thousand dollars worth the interest and safety of Trevecca students?

At "Doughnuts and Dialogue" on January 19, the issue was discussed and re-discussed, with nothing to the satisfaction of the students.

The answers lead in circles. Brenda Brodien presented a petition with 200 signatures to Dr. Adams at the meeting and stated it was a matter of safety for the girls in TN to have the guys on that side of campus. Dr. Adams stated security was being improved to help in this matter, but dialogue later in the meeting left that issue fuzzy also.

You may wonder, why all the fuss? Well, by the time you read this, the transaction will have taken place, but here are the comments being heard now: "We just don't want to move. We are a family and our dorm is the best," a Wise resident stated. Sheri McMurrin gave a lengthy statement. But basically she is dismayed by all.

The residents of Wise have put up a long and endless battle. Few were present at the "Doughnuts & Dialogue" meeting. In talking to Tom Rucci about the meeting, he said that attendance at the meeting would cause trouble between the Wise residents and the faculty. Tom Rucci, Kenny Holmes, and Pam Howard will all lose their jobs as resident assistants because of this transaction.

Don't think the fellows of Benson are very happy about all of this. The basic feeling at Benson is "It isn't our fault they're getting moved. Why should people of Benson be moved around?"

It all comes down to one basic problem. One that has been at Trevecca for the past six years. That problem is money. Dean Privett told Trev-Echoes, "We saw during Christmas break we could possibly close Bud and we talked to Pam, and she contacted some students at home. We didn't know actually until the end of the first week of school that there would be enough dorm spaces for the girls in Bud Robinson." Dean Privett also revealed that heating costs average around $15 to $16 per person for the residents of Wise and Bud Robinson.

After all is said and done, some will be happy and scars of the unhappy will heal. Wise and Bud have been opened and closed before. Bud's Bird-watchers was closed long ago and Wise is closed every year.

It does seem odd though that dorms should be closing when attendance has risen by 23 people since fall quarter, according to business office statistics.

WNAZ: Nashville's Best Kept Secret?

If, according to station manager David Deese, WNAZ-FM is the best kept secret in Nashville, then the "cat's about to be let out of the bag." The radio station, located in the basement of Tidwell Hall, is nearing the end of an extensive restructuring program which promises to make it a real competitor in the the Nashville market.

The changes began almost a year and a half ago when Deese, a '69 graduate of Trevecca, returned to his alma mater to take the helm of the 500 watt radio station. He began immediately by making program changes and acquiring new equipment. Now, nearly 15 months later, he is preparing to announce the completion of those and other projects.

The obvious changes were made in the area of programming. A more stable sound has been achieved with the establishment of a new format, better training of announcers and the addition of new programs. An even better sound should be heard in the near future when WNAZ hopes to increase its power to 1385 watts, extending its range to all of Davidson County.

The format change consist basically of two "sounds." The primary emphasis is on Contemporary Christian music, which is played during the morning drive time, 6 to 9 a.m., and after 4 in the afternoon. The daytime format, from 9 am to 4 pm, features what Deese calls "Beautiful Christian music." It is mostly instrumental and is especially appropriate for playing in offices and shops, as well as providing a relaxing sound for the home.

WNAZ also features some regular programs that have proved to be very popular. "Night Sounds," which airs at 10:30 each night, provides a quiet, relaxing end to the day. This is followed at 11 pm by 89-FM's album premieres, which have received many favorable comments.

The newest addition to the list is "Sunday Sonshine," which airs from 12 to one each Sunday afternoon. It is produced by the Christian Bible Society of Nashville and features instrumental music.

However, WNAZ is not depending solely on music for its program material. Deese, along with News Director Teresa Prevatt, is hard at work trying to build a news department that, in his words, will be "one of the most competitive in Nashville." Regular newscasts are already airing during the day and with new equipment, such as their police scanner, it should continue to gain credibility. A newswire is also in the budget for next year.

Weekly radio dramas, produced by WNAZ, are also to be added to the program list in the near future. These will feature Trevecca students and will be coordinated by Ken Westenberger, the executive producer, and Jeff Thompson.

Along with their improvements in sound, the station is also in the process of improving its physical structure. Major renovations, which were done primarily by Trevecca's maintenance department, are due to be completed within the week, to be followed by an Open House.

Included in the facelift were new carpet for the floors and walls, suspended ceilings, improved lighting and fresh paint. The control room has been completely refurbished and a new production room has been added. An outer lobby and news room have also been included in the renovations. These additions, along with improvements to two other offices have given the six-room suite the look of a professional radio station.

New equipment and added storage space have also been included in the remodeling. Perhaps the most important addition is that of an automation unit. This will allow WNAZ to expand to 24 hours of programming, as well as serve as a back-up system during exams and holidays.

All of these improvements have helped the radio station acquire quite a few new listeners, especially among collegians. According to Deese, the evening format has a large following of students, not only from Trevecca, but also from Belmont, David Lipscomb and Vanderbilt. This is good news, but he stressed that the daytime audience is far below its potential.

The most distressing fact, says Deese, is that many Nazarenes in the city are not aware that Trevecca even has a radio station. Included in this group are adults, 31 and older, of whom WNAZ is hoping to reach during the daytime hours. He feels that if these people, along with others, are made aware of the benefits of 89-FM has to offer the number of listeners will increase dramatically.

David Deese is hoping that all of these improvements will make WNAZ-FM one of the best radio stations in Nashville. He hopes to increase awareness by continued improvements and a soon-to-be released promotion package. However, he is quite confident that the station is continuing its primary goal of training Christian broadcasters

The President's Ultimatum

NEVER LET IT BE SAID THAT CONFERENCES ARE A WASTE OF TIME! The SGA/Administrative Conference of last November, with all of SGA and several key Administrators and Faculty participating, has proven to be successful already! Let me divulge: LIBRARY HOURS: were extended several hours a week for winter quarter. Please do take advantage of this for your personal studying. We want it to last. BENSON HOT WATER—I watched today as the new 120 gallon tank was delivered. We may have hot showers at 6 AM now. Great! BENSON PARKING LOT—I understand the materials for re-sealing and re-lining are here, and waiting for warmer weather to use! Hopefully, by spring quarter, you will know where the parking lines are and will be able to drive out of the lot without losing your mind in the maze! LAUNDRY FACILITIES—The WishyWashy company fixed all machines over break, and considerations are being made for moving the machines from the MacKay area into the girls dorms! This was much-needed improvement and we are grateful. HOT FOOD LAMPS—are ready to install in the cafeteria to keep our meals warmer! This will also be a definite improvement. ALL OF THIS AMOUNTS TO PROGRESS in the areas of student life! All of these items, and many more, were discussed in detail at the Conference. Much praise deservedly goes to those in authority in each of these areas for prompt improvement. There is much yet to be done, but we are making steps in the right direction. Your SGA Administrators are working together to improve your student life. We ask for your input whenever you feel you have something we need to hear.

And now, to those MIGHTY TROJANS. Many of us who have been here several years have not yet quite adjusted to this year's basketball team! The reason, we are winning so many games! Throughout seventeen games at this writing, the Trojans have shown moments of brilliance, a lot of far-better-than-average play, and, yes, still a few lapses into disorganization. Yet, thirteen wins have been chalked up, and only one loss has been experienced in the conference. The players deserve our adulation. Especially the coaching staff deserve praise also! And the fans, WOW! There surely can be no better anywhere for volume, excitement, and genuine fun at ball games. One cannot forget the cheerleaders. I've never seen better in a small college! TROJANS, hopefully we've just begun! The Conference, District, and who knows, even NAIA is ours if we really want it bad enough! So get together, and let's do it! Trojan fans will be there with you all the way! This really all goes together you know! Progress in the area of student life, and progress in the area of basketball. Both are exciting trends. Both should and must be continued! Let's all work together to see them accomplished.

Dr. Privett's Name Book

by Kim King

Have you reached the social pinnacle? Have you "arrived" at TNC? In other words, is your name included in Dr. Privett's "Name Book?"

At a recent Trojan basketball game, I happened to have a seat a few feet away from Dr. Privett. During the game, I made a very interesting observation. Dr. Privett was reading over a little green book closely resembling an appointment book. A closer look revealed a very interesting memory system.

All of our names are written in this book. The names are arranged alphabetically by last name. Admittedly, that's not really too out of the ordinary. However, what is rather humorous is the description he has written by each of our names. One student is listed as "from Alabama." Another has "sings" beside her name. But my favorite was listed as "Kevin Ulmet's girl." (Bet you don't know who that was) If you want to find out how Dr. Privett describes you, just ask him if you can see his name book, look under your alphabetical category, and read your description.

Even though it is a rather unusual system for memorizing names, I, for one, appreciate the hard work and effort Dean Privett puts in—in learning our names and doing his job.

Facing The Issue

by Anita Thompson

Troubled times . . . high prices . . . high interest rates . . . low church attendance . . . the family doesn't pray together, and they don't stay together. And these are just a few of the problems we face every day.

Mrs. Alta Kimmons, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, started her Christmas letter to my family like this: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country. That was an exercise we did when I was first learning to type. Don't know but what it is still a good exercise these days—with meaning to it—at least with the election returns this year! A lot of people responded—Good or Bad? My thinking is that if a lot of us Christians don't come to the aid of our country, our greatgrandchildren will never know what democracy was meant to be." I haven't been able to stop thinking about what that wise lady said.

While it is true that America has advanced technologically, I'm afraid she has lost some very valuable principles in the process. It worries me because I don't see many people remembering that the old-fashioned way of believing in God actually had a higher rate of success than some of the new-fangled ideas like "looking out for number one."

So Trevecca students, let's renew our efforts of revolution! Wouldn't it be wonderful if the Trevecca of Nashville could be the source of revival that blazed reminiscently of the Trevecca of South Wales, or the college revival in which John Wesley participated? How can we bear to be mediocre when with our potential and God's blessing we could be DYNAMIC? How can we feed our brains and yet starve our souls? Think about it . . .

Faculty

Profile

If you haven't been in a class with Professor Joy Wells, you may have mistaken her for another student. She is young, attractive, and carries a twinkle in her eye, but don't let her attractiveness fool you.

Joy Wells came to Trevecca in the fall of 1972 as a freshman. After graduating in 1976, she went on to graduate school at MTSU, receiving her Masters in Sociology in one year.

Although Professor Wells had planned to work in social welfare, she ended up teaching. Joy Wells said, "I don't want to sound too hokey. I believe it was the Lord's will, but let's just say at the time it seemed right."

Joy Wells has a strong concept of family. She wants to contribute to God and society and still maintain a loving relationship with her family.

She and her husband, Marvin, who met in college, are both educators. Mr. Wells teaches fourth grade in Williamson County, and he is currently working on his Masters in Education Administration.

Joy Wells feels comfortable in Nashville. She and her family attend the College Hill Church of the Nazarene. She and her husband sing and are involved in much of their music. They also make it a point to be involved with the Young Married Sunday School class. Aside from church, Mrs. Wells enjoys needlepoint, crewel, and all types of handwork and sewing with the exception of crochet. She likes to spend time reading and doing ceramics, but recently she has had to restructure her life to make time for an adorable daughter. Lindi Wells is now eight months old, and her mother already proudly carries pictures to show off her pride and joy.

Professor Wells takes care of all sociology classes, ranging from General Sociology to Criminology and Gerontology. She has input in all the possibilities of growth in her department, and she shares in the hope that some indefinite day in the future another full-time person may be added to help in the teaching of psychology courses.

Professor Wells' parents live in Columbus, Georgia where her father serves as a minister, and her mother teaches kindergarten. She has one brother, who is married and has a son. He also graduated from seminary.

According to Joy Wells, maintaining the role of teacher and the role of friend in the classroom, when you are very close to the age of the students, is not always easy. But after talking with her, one cannot help but be assured of her competence. This is supported by her continued desire to be at her best. She is considering continuing school to receive a second Masters degree in guidance counseling or just to pick up extra courses.

Joy Wells models well the roles of professor, mother, and wife, but also manages to be involved in the lives of students. Because of this, she participates on the Student Life Council and last year was chosen as one of the Outstanding Women of America, an honor well-deserved.

Ed Darling

Ed Darling is probably a familiar name to most Trevecca students. Some may not be able to place the name with the face but chances are that one of the two are recognizable.

Ed comes from Daytona Beach, Florida. He is a junior, majoring in religion and holds a couple of student government posts.

The redhead is probably best known for his involvement in intramural sports. He has played football and basketball for three years and softball for the past two. During those years, he has won several awards, including all-stars and sportsmanship. He also serves on the TIA council as a Gamma representative.

Perhaps the only thing more important to Ed than sports is his relationship to Christ. He is just as involved in church work as he is in athletics. Aside from nurturing his own personal Christian experience, Ed also tries to help others. He says he loves to preach and has done so many times, including a few times in Prayer & Praise on Wednesday nights. He also serves on the Religious Life Committee.

Trevecca is also important to Ed. He feels that God opened the doors that allowed him to come and continues to guide him while he is here. He likes the professors, especially in the religion department, and the students and feels that the Christian emphasis here is very important.

Thus, Ed Darling is a Christian, competitive, and a lover of Trevecca. He is also friendly, interesting and a good listener. In short, Ed is one of the reasons that Trevecca people are special.

Lena Hegi enjoys life. This is evident by the laughter that is her trademark. She enjoys good conversation and hard work. She makes the most of good company.

Lena is a senior from Conway, Arkansas. She came from the Bethany College District because she found Trevecca to have a strong Communications Department and a Forensic Team.

Four years of forensics has occupied Lena's time, but she feels that every tournament is a learning experience in itself. She stated that she met students of all sorts and gained much from their opinions and speeches on various subjects.

Lena lost her father at the age of six. That only means she is that much closer to her mother and her sister, Mary Bleve who is a Trevecca freshman this year.

Lena Hegi

After graduating from TNC, Lena foresees the possibility of graduate school. She has the University of Arkansas under consideration, and probably will aim for a Masters in Communications. She is currently studying in Speech Communication and Behavioral Science.

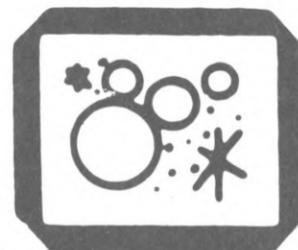

Lena used to believe she might enjoy a career in Speech Pathology, but nowadays she thinks she may be happier coaching forensics and teaching communications in high school or college, or possibly working behind-the-scenes with some form of mass media.

While Lena is normally on the Dean's List, carrying a 3.75, she also likes to relax now and then. She is involved in the non-musical version of the Janusians' upcoming production Meet Me in St. Louis, in which she plays the role of the mother. She participates in Concert Choir, where she sings alto and does narration. She doesn't consider herself very athletic, although she enjoys biking, but more often you'll find Lena cuddled up with a good book or watching the Arkansas Razorbacks play football.

Although Lena feels Trevecca is strong in sports and spiritual activities, she feels the school could improve its outreach in the area of academics. In her opinion, it is very important for Trevecca to build a good rapport and representation with other colleges and universities.

When asked what she would like to leave behind when she left Trevecca, Lena related a paraphrase of her favorite quote, 'The purpose of life is to count. . . to make some difference.' And Lena has made a special difference at TNC.

One in a Million

by Woody Mitchell

The sophomore class, under the leadership of President Melvin Taylor, has put together a very elegant Valentine's Banquet and Pageant this year.

Last quarter, the officers of the sophomore class appointed Tom Dula to be overseer of the events.

The Valentine events will begin on February 13 at 7 p.m. in the College Hill Annex. The cost will be $1.50 per person. The ten girls selected by the students during fall quarter will compete for Valentine Queen. The girls chosen by their peers are as follows:

Karen Blankenship, Sheila Cummings, Christie Jones, Terri McCue, Karla Oglesby, Susan Rector, Libbie Sparks, Tracie Stoner, Tammy Tarter, Beverly Tate, and Susan Tousley.

These girls will compete before five judges. Among these five judges is a Miss America third runner-up from Kentucky; Margaret Bush, a past Trevecca Valentine's queen; a representative from the Tennessee Performing Arts; a representative from Opryland; and a dress designer from McClures. Jim Quiggins will be master of ceremonies, and entertainment will be provided by Gary Chapman, a writer and backup guitarist for Amy Grant.

This year two things have changed about the pageant.

First, the escorts will not be used. "They are only on the stage for five minutes," Tom Dula said, "so we just changed it." Second, there will be an orchestra composed of Trevecca students and members of the Nashville Symphony. The orchestra will play throughout the pageant, but its basic function will be to assist the girls in an opening number. There will also be a presentation spotlighting last year's Valentine Queen, Carol Herring.

Following the coronation of February 14, a Valentine banquet will be held at the Maxwell House hotel in the grand ballroom beginning at 7 p.m. The cost will be $11.50 per person.

The theme for the Valentine events will be "One in a Million." Entertainment will be provided

The menu at the banquet will be one of the best ever. It will consist of Tenderloin of Beef Stroganoff, Broccoli Polonaise, and other entrees and will end up with Pineapple Cheesecake.

Tom Dula and Terri McCue have worked very hard and long on this year's Valentine weekend. Tom promises two things: "This year's banquet will be the best ever," and "I will never do anything like this again."

WACHTEL LECTURESHIP

by Dan Wilkinson

The Wachtel lectures took the place of the regular chapel services on Thursday and Friday, January 15 and 16, in the new College Hill Sanctuary. The "David K. Wachtel Lecture Series on Evangelism" was established to keep the revival spirit alive here at Trevecca.

Dr. D. K. Wachtel, in whose memory the series was formed, served as a pastor, and evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene and as the district superintendent of the state of Tennessee. He devoted his whole life to the promotion of evangelism in hopes that the lectures would continue to make people aware of the great importance of our evangelistic mission to the world.

This year the lectureship here at Trevecca was conducted by the Rev. Harold B. Graves, superintendent of the Southwestern Ohio District. He also has served as the superintendent of the San Antonio District for five years and served for 25 years in the pastoral ministry for churches in Tennessee, Ohio, and Indiana. He has also been successfully active in the capacities of NYI president of Tennessee and has served on the board of trustees for Olivet Nazarene College and Bethany Nazarene College. He is presently serving on the board of trustees for Mount Vernon Nazarene College. The most important fact of his resume is that he is a graduate of Trevecca Nazarene College.

Let us, as students and faculty, take heed to his plea to keep the message of holiness alive and burning in our hearts. May we seek God's help in our lives to place all our confidence in the will of our Lord God. "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

$4000 Academic Scholarships Available

High school seniors with an American College Test (ACT) score of 28 or above are eligible for a $4000 four-year scholarship to attend Trevecca. It is possible for a student designated as the Trevecca Scholar to receive $5500.

This President's Scholarship is payable at $1000 a year and is renewable if a qualifying grade point average (GPA) is maintained. The recent decision, by the President's Cabinet, to increase this scholarship from $2800 was a positive action to encourage academically-talented young people to attend Trevecca, a Christian college.

Other President's Scholarships for incoming freshmen will also be increased. Applicants with an ACT score of 25-27 will be eligible for a $3000 scholarship, payable at $750 a year. A score of 23 or 24 will qualify the applicant for a $2000 scholarship, payable at $500 annually. All scholarships require a qualifying GPA for renewal.

Trevecca Scholars, the sophomore, junior and senior with the highest grade point average, will receive $1500 annually (tuition only).

The Dean's Scholarship, formerly known as Class Scholarships, has also been updated and increased. The Dean's Scholarship is available to transfer students and currently enrolled TNCers. The required GPA now parallels graduation honors and membership in the Honor Society and Phi Delta Lambda. An annual scholarship of $1000 is awarded for GPA of 3.9 or above; $750 for a GPA of 3.7 and $500 for a GPA of 3.5.

Assassin

by Tom Felder

More than 100 students were "gunned down" last week by trigger-happy assassins, all seeking to be the last one remaining alive. All types of methods were used as one-by-one the assassins were "killed" off leading to a showdown between the "fearless" Carol Herring and Lynn "Kermit" Whited. Whited prevailed!

Assassin, the friendly game of "murder" swept across college and university campuses last year, becoming one of the most popular of recent fads among collegians in the United States. This year it invaded Trevecca with the same enthusiasm and appeal, as over 100 students participated in the first round.

Each participant was secretly given the name of a fellow assassin to shoot. The shooting could occur almost anywhere and, as organizers put it, there were "no holds barred." Friendly distrust and paranoia hung heavily in the air throughout the week as no assassin felt safe.

As the week progressed the field got smaller and smaller. The assassins also got sneakier and sneakier. Darts flew in hallways, the student center, during a basketball game and many unsuspecting victims were "shot" as they were asleep in bed. Finally it came down to three . . . then two . . . and then the last shot that gave Whited the mythical title of Trevecca's best "assassin."

Although the game was exciting and many have signed up for another round, there were many sighs of relief as it ended. Many claimed the pressure was just too heavy and were glad—deep down—when they fell victim to the dart.

United States still the best place to live.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Take heart, Americans! The United States is still the best place in the world in which to live.

A study of the "quality of life" in 50 nations found that, despite our environmental, economic and social problems, the United States ranks first in overall fulfillment for its people.

The researchers used every standard of "quality" they could identify and measure in their study. They acknowledged that spiritual factors are involved in "quality of life," but excluded these because they could not figure out a way to measure and compare them.

The study was prepared by Claude F. Anderson of the Electric Power Research Institute in Palo Alto, Calif. and Ben-Chieh Liu of the Midwest Research Institute, Kansas City, Mo.

In their elaborate "model" for computing quality of life, they used five main categories of human satisfaction—social, economic, health and education, environmental, and national vitality and security. There were a dozen subcategories, and each of those was broken down into a number of factors.

Every measure was given a relative "weight" based on an international public opinion survey on what people considered their most important concerns.

For example, in the category of "social" quality, which accounted for 24 percent of the overall measure, the subcategories were "satisfaction of basic human needs"; standard of living; informed citizenry with modern conveniences and welfare independence."

Both positive and negative factors were weighed. A nation received a positive score for the number of acres of land per capita, but lost points if the population was concentrated in large cities. The number of motor vehicles in use per mile of road was a negative item.

In the 50-nation overall results, Canada ranked second. Australia third, Sweden fourth and the Soviet Union fifth. Next were Norway, New Zealand, Switzerland, Denmark, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Japan, the United Kingdom and the Netherlands.

Countries at the bottom of the scale in quality of life were Saudi Arabia, Chile, Iraq, Iran, Lebanon, Brazil, Mexico, Jamaica and Libya. at the median were Ireland and Taiwan.

The study showed that a country's average national income per capita is not the best measure of quality of life. For example, Kuwait ranked first in gross national product per capita but was 38th in the overall ranking.

Israel ranked first in national vitality and security, which measured such things as military strength, international trade and capital resources. The U.S.S.R. was second, Taiwan third, Romania fourth and the United States fifth.

In environment, Australia and Argentina were ahead of the United States.

Of the five major categories, the United States was first only in health and education, which measured such things as medical care and literacy, and in the economic category, which included such factors as the cost of living index in relation to gross national income.

But it was high enough in the other categories that it finished No. 1.

SIGMA

by Betty Wright

The Trevecca Sigma Society may have recently changed their name, but their purpose remains the same. The club, formerly the K-ettes, is continuing to be of service through various projects and activities.

The club will continue tutoring at the Nashville Boy's Club as they have done in the past. They are also sponsoring a "Girl in India" project.

Sigma also has three projects scheduled for this quarter. On January 24th, the club is sponsoring a Fashion Show at the College Hill Annex, featuring clothes by Leon's, at the Belle Meade Plaza. On January 31st, they will be conducting an Arts and Crafts Fair. The location and time for this event will be announced later.

Then, on March 14th, the Sigma Society will proudly present "Petra" in concert. This group is from Belmont, and has an outstanding performance record in the Tennessee area.

The Sigma Society asks you to mark your calendars for these special events. Also, if you are at least a third quarter freshman, by Spring Quarter, and a girls, then you might be interested in Sigma's Rush Week, tentatively scheduled for the first week in April.

Urban Missions

by Tom Felder

"The City Experience—The Christian Response," a two-day conference designed for Nazarene district leaders, pastors, and laypersons involved or interested in Urban Ministry, will be held at Trevecca College February 6 and 7. Conference participants will attend meetings and discussions with urban "ministers," dealing with the issues and problems of ministry to the city.

The conference is being sponsored cooperatively by the Communications and Religion Departments of Trevecca along with Christian Counseling Services, Nashville First, and Rogers Chapel Churches of the Nazarene. A planning committee, consisting of representatives of each of these groups, has worked out a schedule, topics and a roster of impressive speakers for the event. Members of the planning committee are Jim Quiggins and Hal Cauthron of Trevecca; Mike Mallory, CCS; Lee Woolery, First Nazarene and Bill Allen, Rogers Chapel.

Special speakers for the conference include Rev. Bill Boggs, Pastor, Los Angeles First Church of the Nazarene; Rev. Tom Nees, Pastor, Community of Hope Ministry in Washington, D.C. and Dr. Raymond Hurn, Executive Director for the Department of Home Missions. Other participants are Rev. Roger Bowman, Pastor, Los Angeles Grace Church of the Nazarene; Dr. Millard Reed, Pastor, Nashville First Church of the Nazarene; Jerry Hull, Chairman, Urban studies Steering Committee, Department of Home Missions; Barry Cunningham, Director, Ypsilanti Resource Center, Detroit; Gilbert Leigh, New World Christian Ministries, Chicago and Franklin Cook, Coordinator of Urban Missions for the Department of Home Missions.

Continuing Education Units, as well as undergraduate credit, will be awarded to participants by Trevecca College. The undergraduate credits are part of a regular class and will include outside work, both before and after the conference.

Grants are also being provided by Trevecca and the Department of Home Missions to two persons from each district on the Southeastern Zone. These will cover all expenses related to the conference and will be distributed by the respective District Superintendents. Additional monies are also available to those needing financial assistance. These are limited and must be arranged through Dr. Quiggins, the Urban Ministry Coordinator.

Students Lose Millions By Not Applying for Them

A missing link exists in the U.S. between available college scholarships, grants and financial aid, and the people eligible to receive them.

"Money is going unclaimed, because people don't know where to find the funds, or they think they don't qualify," says the Director of the Student Assistance Council of America.

According to Robert Freede, author of Cash-for-College (Prentice-Hall), "People believe the myth that all scholarships and grants are based only on a student's financial need... class standing... or test scores. It's not true!"

"More than $100,000,000 of school aid has gone unclaimed and unused because it has not been matched up with the proper students. Students don't bother to apply because many parents don't believe their children qualify for financial aid," Freede says.

Yet millions of dollars in aid are available to people regardless of need or academic excellence. Total dollars available to students for college are some $500,000,000. "Substantial amounts of money are hidden behind strange eligibility requirements, little-known trust funds, public and private grants," says Freede.

"Since you must apply to be considered, the trick is to find out about these funds. Matching scholarship sources to qualified individuals isn't a job for amateurs, as a computer is required. Even student counselors can't know more than a fraction of the over 250,000 available source items."

Scholarship Search, an arm of the Student Assistance Council, provides personalized research by computer that matches a student's eligibility factors to sources of funds for college which they are qualified to receive.

The search guarantees to identify specific financial sources of potential funds for the subscribing student.

Who is more likely to qualify for college funds?

To help answer this question, the Student Assistance Council has developed a 60-second quiz for which one "yes" answer could qualify someone to apply for a number of financial aid sources.

Ask yourself:

• Have you participated in extra-curricular activities in school... or outside of school?

• Have you decided on a particular career or occupation? (Many scholarships are based on the student's interest in a major course of study or future occupation.)

• Are you or your parents affiliated with any union, religious or fraternal organization, community or professional group?

• Were either of your parents in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines or Coast Guard?

The Student Assistance Council of America has developed a unique Student Profile Application Form, which provides the "keys" to finding multiple sources of financial aid.

You can get a copy of this form, plus a "how to" Scholarship Search Information Kit, by writing directly to the Council and enclosing $1.00 to help pay for first class postage, handling, etc.

Write Student Assistance Council of America, Suite 628U, 1775 Broadway, New York, NY 10019.

Who's Who?

The 1981 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES will carry the names of 10 students from Trevecca Nazarene College, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,300 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students, named this year from Trevecca Nazarene College are:

1. Ms. Patti Jo Childers
2. Ms. Jennifer L. Haviland
3. Mr. Randal L. Haviland
4. Ms. Lena J. Hegi
5. Mr. Jeff A. Herndon
6. Mr. Robert E. Milburn, Jr.
7. Mr. Paul R. Montemuro
8. Ms. Teresa J. Prevatt
9. Ms. Elizabeth A. Sparks
10. Mr. Kevin M. Ulmet.

Circle K

by Betty Wright

When it comes to projects, Circle K always turns to the community. This tradition will continue as the club makes plans for this quarter.

Just recently the club made miniature "care packages" and took them to a men's halfway house here in Nashville. Also, as in years past, Circle K is working with the boys at the Tennessee Preparatory School this quarter. Several of the Circle K members will go to the school every Saturday, and pick up a group of the boys and spend the day with them.

As far as events go, Circle K has winter quarter pretty well filled up.

To start this quarter off, the club will be sponsoring a Bloodmobile Drive, January 21st. They are asking that everyone please try and come out and donate some blood. Because of the cold weather and sickness that comes with this time of the year, those extra pints will be needed. If you are seventeen or over, and weight at least 110 pounds, you are eligible to donate. Circle K sponsored this project last quarter, and got 103 pints.

The next event planned is the annual Circle K Volleyball Marathon. This year the club is trying to raise ten thousand dollars for Multiple Sclerosis. They are asking a fifty dollar pledge for every "group" that signs up. This "group" may consist of either another club, organization, dorm, a floor of a dorm, or just a group of people who want to play volley ball and give their money to a worthy cause.

As you can see, Trevecca's Circle K has a busy winter quarter planned, not only for themselves, but for the students of Trevecca. Let's not let them down—this is your quarter to get involved!

Fashion Trends

Nancy Reagan isn't on the new list of best-dressed women (simply because she appeared so frequently on it before becoming first lady-elect that the fashion arbiters already had voted her into the Hall of Fame and out of competition.

As for President-elect Ronald Reagan, the committee that makes the annual selections for this special fashion niche decided he would have to do something about his blue-jean and wide-shouldered suit image if he is to be considered in the future.

But some of those associated with the new administration made the list, announced by Eleanor Lambert, fashion publicist.

They are: Alexander Haig, the Secretary of State-designate, Senator Charles Percy and Jerome Zipkin, friend of the Reagans.

The current 12 best-dressed women are:

Paloma Picasso, the artist, jewelry designer and daughter of Pablo Picasso.

Diana Ross, entertainer.

The young Duchess of Kent.

Olympia de Rothschild of Paris.

Baroness Vittorio de Nora of Milan and New York.

Mrs. Francis Kellogg of New York.

Mrs. Constance Mellon of Washington, of the Mellon banking family.

Mrs. Irith Landau, French heiress.

Mrs. Geoffrey Holder, actress wife of the dancer-director.

Mrs. Christian de Guigne, the Second of San Francisco.

Mrs. Estee Lauder, the cosmetics tycoon.

Grace, the Countess of Dudley.

The 12 men are:

Senator Charles Percy.

Alexander Haig

President Jose Lopez Portillo (pohr-tee-yoh) of Mexico.

Carlos Ortiz de Rozas, Argentine Ambassador to the United States.

James Hoge, publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times.

Earl E-T Smith Junior of Palm Beach.

Jerome Zipkin, New York businessman.

Roger Penske, racing car driver.

Thomas Ammann, Swiss art dealer.

Henry McIlhenny of New Orleans and Philadelphia.

Lambert, who steers the annual selection, said there was no number one, number two, number three and so on listing. Around mid-December, she mailed "about one-thousand" ballots to fashion and society editors and others who watch who's wearing what. Selections were made by a committee from the 400 ballots returned.

That's My Line

That's My Line, the exciting and new prime-time TV show starring Bob Barker, which features unique, offbeat and heartwarming occupations, is returning to production after three successful specials on the CBS Television Network.

If, in your profession, you become aware of people with unusual, extraordinary jobs, and you feel they might be good subjects for the program, please contact Goodson-Todman Productions. If you are the first to suggest a subject that is acceptable for broadcast on That's My Line, you will be paid a finder's fee of $250.00.

Goodson-Todman is looking for interesting, colorful people presently involved in unique occupations or pursuits. It is important that items proposed tell a story, and that they have dramatic visual elements with style and humor suited to a family television show. Items must be focused directly on someone's "line"—their full-time profession or part-time hobby which helps them make a living. Goodson-Todman is looking for literally hundreds of subjects and would be delighted to hear each and every suggestion you care to make. Examples of some of the people who have already appeared on That's My Line include:

*A man who runs armadillo races.

*An elderly publisher who delivers his newspaper from his airplane.

*A pre-teen high fashion model.

*A troupe of tap-dancing grandmothers.

*A woman who finds long-lost relatives and brings them together.

If you have any questions, or would like to suggest a story and claim the finder's fee, please contact the Goodson-Todman representative at the address below.

Staley Lectures to have Noted Speaker

Dr. Harold O. J. Brown, renowned speaker and author of several noteworthy books, will be on Trevecca's campus from February 25-27 for the Staley Lecture Series.

Dr. Brown has spoken on many college campuses across the nation and has been exceptionally well-received. Brown is well-qualified to speak on many topics, but his theme for the Staley lectures will be that of the Christian's role in a democratic society.

While Brown will be addressing the student body in chapels, he will also be available to address several classes and various campus groups.

Hot Platters

by Dan Wilkinson

Birtles & Gable. The Last Romance. Capitol Records.

Are the names Beeb Birtles and Graham Goble familiar to you? They should be if you are a Little River Band fan.

Birtles and Goble are recent converts to the Christian faith, and have a song with a definite statement of that faith on the album, although the main content of the album contains secular song material.

The Last Romance by Birtles/Goble is a successful attempt on their first duet outside the Little River Band. If you like their sound, and if you are in a mellow mood, this is the album for you.

Keith Green. So you Wanna Go Back to Egypt—Pretty Good Records.

Green strikes Gold again! The only catch is that you can't buy it. The only way to get a copy is to write to the following address, and send a free-will donation: Pretty Good Records, a Division of Last Days Ministry, Box 9, Lindale, Texas 75711.

This is a dynamite album with a lot of dynamite people including: Bill Maxwell, Bob Dylan, Kelly Willard, Mathew Ward, and the Howard McCrary family. As usual, Keith Green has put out another great album with a message to impart to us. As the phrase on the back of the album jacket says "All Prsie, Honor, and Thanksgiving to the Lord Jesus, Who Brought Us All Together to Glorify the Living God in Spirit and in Truth."

Donna Summer. The Wanderer. Gennen Records.

The "First Lady" of disco has joined forces with God and has shown a definite change on her latest album. Her disco sound is still prevalent, though interspersed with some new wave feel. A number entitled "I Believe In Jesus" has been included on this album in which, I guess one could say, she states her faith. Although the album is basically secular, some of the lyrics seem to point toward a change in her outlook on life. If you enjoy the Summer style of music, then this album will not disappoint you.

Barnabas. Tunesmith Records.

This group of five Christians means well I am sure, but their sound is not quite the everyday music a good many people are used to hearing. The songs have good, powerful lyrics but their attempt at the "NEW WAVE" sound at Rock 'N Roll does not quite stack up. In fact, it borders on being atrocious! This album is for you if you like blaring "new wave" guitar with a female lead vocalist whose voice is more reminiscent of a growl rather than a beautiful songbird.

Steely Dan. Gaacho. MCA Records.

MCA is proud to present to you the new album by Steely Dan. It has been quite awhile in the making, but well worth the wait. Donald Fagen and Walter Becker have created another musical masterpiece. The beautiful, crisp rhythm tracks are highlighted by Donald Fagen's unusual, but complementing voice. This long awaited collection of tunes from Steely Dan is a top-notch production and I am sure will not let you down.

Crowds, cheers, and school spirit are all a part of the Trevecca basketball games. The recent home games have been the highlights of this quarter. Trevecca's basketball team has shown talent and dedication to their loyal fans.

After having a long awaited winter break, students came back to TNC welcoming the basketball game of Aurora vs Trevecca. The final score of this first home game of the year was Trevecca 93 and Aurora 84.

The second home game was David Lipscomb vs Trevecca. Tension and excitement were felt all through this spirit filled game. A battle of one point leads throughout the first half made the suspense much more thrilling. Finally, after halftime, Trevecca went "down the floor and up (went) the score." The final score for this long awaited game was Trevecca 61 and Lipscomb 47.

The third and most recent home game was Trevecca vs Bryan College. Attendance was slightly lower than the Lipscomb upset, but school spirit uplifted the game. TNC overcame Bryan by a well deserved score. Trevecca Trojans once again brought pride to our school.

School spirit, crowds and cheers will always be a part of the Trevecca basketball games. Everyone who devotes time and talent to the TNC games makes them what they are. I say, "It is great to be from TNC!"

TIA Basketball

by Loren Murray

The intramural basketball season got off to a good start Saturday, with games going on all day from 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM. Participation was good and continuous support is expected throughout the season.

In "C" League competition, Delta outshot Gamma in a 37-32 victory. Scoring leaders were Reggie Rose for Delta and Howard Wilson for Gamma with 11 and 14 respectively. Alpha also came out the victors in a close 32-30 final over Beta. Todd Wiseman led Alpha with 12 points, and Mike Mills for Beta with 11.

In "B" League, Beta and Gamma both came out victorious over Alpha and Delta, 42-28 and 52-25 respectively. Leaders for Beta—Alpha game were Steve Mitchen with 11 for Beta and Jimmy Mason with 11 for Alpha. In the Gamma-Alpha clash, J.D. Hogan led Gamma with 17 and Wells led Delta with 9.

And in the last games of the evening, Alpha battled off a last minutes charge and won over Beta 50-45. Scott Smith led the victors with 18. In the Delta-Gamma game, Delta was victorious 63-50. Delta's offense was well balanced but was led in scoring by Gary Cunning with 16. Loren Murray contributed 20 for the losing Gamma team.

There are many things that need to be done during the day to help with the time-clock, books, setting-up, etc. If you can't play you can still be involved. TIA needs your help. If interested, contact Brenda Brodien, Cindy Parrott or Loren Murray.

Test Your Energy Sensitivity

The solution to the energy crisis may depend on the knowledge of the world's energy users. How much do you know about energy—where it comes from, how it is used, and its effects? Take this quiz and find out.

___1. By the end of the 20th century, how will the demand for total energy in the United States compare to current demand?

- a. the same
- b. twice as much
- c. three times as much

___2. What percent of the total world's energy is consumed in the United States?

- a. at least 10%
- b. at least 20%
- c. at least 30%

___3. How much faster than the rate of production of coal, gas and oil are we in the United States consuming these fuels?

- a. 10 times faster
- b. 1,000 times faster
- c. 1,000,000 times faster

___4. Since 1970, the United States generated electricity with oil-powered plants . . .

- a. at a reduced rate
- b. at the same rate
- c. at a higher rate

___5. If the attics of single family homes lacking insulation were properly insulated, how much heating oil would be saved on a typical winter day?

- a. 2%
- b. 8%
- c. 50%

___6. Including the efficiency of automobiles in use, how much of the energy from crude petroleum is wasted going from the oil well to the moving car?

- a. 20%
- b. 60%
- c. 90%

___7. If uranium were sent to a reprocessing plant and used in breeder reactors, how much more electricity would be generated with the same fuel?

- a. 3,500% more
- b. 100% more
- c. 50% more

___8. Incandescent lamps and fluorescent lamps emit the same amount of light. Which uses energy more efficiently?

- a. fluorescent
- b. incandescent
- c. they have the same efficiency

___9. Of the energy used in gas stoves, how much is employed to keep the pilot lights burning?

- a. 10%
- b. 25%
- c. 50%

___10. How many soft drink cans can be manufactured from recycled aluminum with the energy needed to make a single can from aluminum ore?

- a. three
- b. eight
- c. twenty

*Answers:

1. B. On the average, the demand for energy in the United States has doubled every 20 to 25 years. This pattern has held steady for more than a century.

2. C. Although the United States has only 6% of the world's population, it uses more than a third of the world's energy.

3. C. In less than 500 years, humans will have used all the coal, oil, and gas that was formed by nature 500,000,000 years ago.

4. C. In 1970, before the Arab oil embargo, the United States obtained 12% of its electricity from oil-powered plants. In 1978, oil was responsible for 21% of U.S. electricity.

5. B. There are approximately 15 million American homes needing attic insulation.

6. C. Energy is lost in several steps, from producing the crude oil to refining to gasoline transport to engine thermal efficiency to engine mechanical efficiency to rolling efficiency. The total efficiency of the system is 6%.

7. A. When uranium is fissioned to generate electricity at a reactor site, only a small portion is used. If reprocessed and used in breeder reactors, it can be recycled many times and a far greater portion of the ore itself utilized.

8. A. Fluorescent lights emit three to four times as much light per watt of electricity as incandescent bulbs. One 40-watt fluorescent light gives more light than three 60-watt incandescents.

9. C. Because pilot lights burn continuously they take about half of the gas used in the gas stove.

10. C. Aluminum uses a great deal of energy, especially in the processing of the ore. The total number of cans thrown away in the U.S. has an equivalent to the output of 10 large nuclear power plants.

Score 1 for each correct answer.

Interpretation:

0-5 You are not sensitive to the energy crisis. You probably waste energy and your behavior may contribute to shortages.

6-7. Your energy-consciousness is rising but you still have a lot to learn. Solutions to the energy crisis depend on people doing more and learning more than they do and know now.

8-10. You are sensitive and knowledgeable about the energy crisis. You are probably a pioneer in efficient energy use and a leader in raising the energy consciousness of others.

TIA Update

by Cindy Parrott

Women's TIA basketball started back up at Trevecca Jan. 10. Beta and Alpha took to the court and Beta triumphed in the close 24-20 victory. After the match, fans watched another close game between Delta and Gamma. The ladies both scored well and were evenly matched, but Gamma pulled off a last minute victory over Delta. The final score Gamma 26—Delta 24.

Racquetball sign-ups are being held in the gym lobby. The playing grids will be up by Jan. 20. The game dates for each match will be posted and deadlines will be very strict.

Sign up sheets will be provided for 10 division, open & college division, men's and women's single competition, doubles competition, and mixed double competition. College sign ups are restricted to those presently attending Trevecca as full-time students. The open divisions will include students, faculty, staff, and alumni. So get out the racquet and get ready.

All TIA activities will be posted in the gym lobby, along with the basketball schedules, all sign-ups for TIA-sponsored events, and TIA meeting minutes. If you have any questions or suggestions concerning intramural activities, feel free to contact any of the officers or representatives.
