EDITORIAL ...

Just Reflecting

By Chester Galloway

As the time is speedily nearing when the teachers will be reviewing ilyn, to Raymond Tate of Gooding, the semester's accomplishments, we think of the things that have been attained or completed this year in student affairs. As we scan the panorama of events and activities we remember the excitement of the Get-Acquainted party where we tried to see who was "new" and who returned after spending previous semesters at N. N. C.

Student-Faculty Reception Reminisced

As we continued throughout the opening convention and Student-Faculty reception, becoming more adjusted to each other and to new circumstances, we realized the year was swiftly passing. The motorcade, Halloween, Thanksgiving, vacation, then the acceptance of the radio station led up to the sudden rush of ASB fees being paid and tests being taken first semester. Second semester began with a whirl of activities, appropriately led by the Youth Revival which was followed by the organization of the Circle K club, many conventions, club and society activities, Spring Revival, Campus Day, election of officers, "In Our Hands," and now the final rush of concluding activities of the year.

Among the most outstanding achievements of the year we would place first the good spiritual tone and the victories gained by many of our group. Others we would place high on the list as of permanent value would be the radio station, Circle K, the contact with the other schools of our movement and the subsequent arrangements for future exchange of a series of slides of their campuses and student activities and organizations, and the results of the stress upon useful Christian

Year Especially Memorable to Seniors

This has been a memorable year to all of us; to the seniors in that we are remembering the effect of the past four years upon our lives and comparing the past with the future; to you freshmen because you are and women who, although Christgetting accustomed to school life and the value of N. N. C.; to you sophomores and juniors because you still have much to look forward to-the overcoming of the faults of the seniors and the attainment of things in which they excell; and especially to you who have made one of "Life's Supreme Choices." If it has been a successful year it is because we have worked together with and under God to make it so.

As we leave school this year, some never to return, some to-succeed —we hope none to fail—let's use this year's achievements as a guide for our journey; if we have failed, as a spur to success; if we have succeeded, as an inspiration to greater growth and achievements. If we have attained the balance and poise denoted by our mottoes-"Character, Culture, Christ," and are seeking "First the Kingdom," next year will be even better for N. N. C. and for us. And to those who have found victory in Christ, if you work for Christ you will not be defeated by the devil. I feel like singing the Doxology as we close this year. I have appreciated and enjoyed the privilege of working with and for you. Thanks for your confidence and cooperation.

DEVOTIONAL THOTS ON ...

ARE YOU A SLEEPING CHRISTIAN?

By David Taylor

One of the greatest tragedies is found in the life of a Christian who has gone to sleep spiritually. But while this is so very tragic, yet it is common and is plagueing the church. Everywhere we find men ians, are seemingly chained in the bonds of lethargy.

Some Christians are sleeping in regard to their own private devotional life. They are unaware that the greatest source of spiritual defeat is lack of prayer and that the greatest source of victory lies in having personal, regular devotions. They go on day after day and seldom take the time to renew their vows and to take a firmer grip upon God. Are you sleeping in regard to your devotional life?

Another realm in which many Christians are asleep is the realm Economics student I've ever had." of service. How many young people and older people never "lift a finger" to bring in a lost person? There are people all around us who are hungry and starving for spiritual help and many of us in our complacent lethargy overlook them and fail to give them our Savior.

How long has it been since you have witnessed to someone? Certainly there has not been want of opportunities. It may be that you have been so drowsy spiritually that you have failed to see these chances for service. Are you sleeping in regard to the souls who are all around you who need

As we leave school this year let's all examine our own lives and determine to go out into the activities of the summer to be wide awake Christians. Are you sleeping?

Intramural Track Day Set for May 30; Clean Sweep Could Clinch Loving Cup

The Faculty Loving Cup could be at stake May 31 when NNC's four athletic-literary societies tangle in the annual intramural track meet. The affair is slated for Bulldog Bowl with field events to be run off in the morning and the track festivities slated for the afternoon. Starting times are 10:00 a. m. and 1:00 p. m.

Although totals on the current race for the loving cup are unavailable, unofficial figures list all four societies bunched surprisingly close and a clean sweep of both girls' and boys' divisions by one society might easily provide that group with the cup.

The winners in each of the two-divisions receive 250 points toward the cup. The points rolled up at the meet are disregarded as far as the overall picture is concerned with loving cup points being distributed on the basis of a major sport. Barring of letter-winners on the varsity track squad has thrown the

Season With Tight Win Over Grizzlies

Taking advantage of the wildness of Greenleaf hurlers, College High nipped the Grizzlies, 7-6, on the local field to chalk up their fourth straight win and sixth of the season in nine games. The win revenged an earlier setback and was the final game of the season for Elmore Vail's Trojans.

Bob Chess and Don Lamm of the visitors held CHS to four well scattered hits, but ten walks and a hit batter cost them the game. Chess issued four walks in the third and yielded a base knock to Mac Wells to produce three of the winners' scores.

Two errors, another free pass and Bud Bold's single added another pair of markers in the fourth for the Trojans.

The host nine won the game in the sixth after Lamm had taken over mound duties. Duane Olson's single, a walk and an error, filled the sacks. Lamm then forced in the tying run with another Annie Oakley and lost his own game by hitting Lorris Benedick.

Dan Holloway went the distance for the Trojans and allowed only three men to reach base in six of the seven innings.

His one inning lapse, however, almost cost him the game as the Grizzlies pounced on him in the third canto for three hits, one a basesloaded triple by Lamm, and two walks, which mingled with a pair of errors provided the losers with all their counters.

varsity is figured to practically eliminate any record - breaking performances, it is expected to increase competition greatly. In the girls' division the defending LSPs are slight favorites, but the ADPs and SLAs both rate strongly while the Olys cannot be counted out of contention.
