ASB Officers to Leave on Retreat

McCall Chosen Site

A large group of student leaders and seven faculty sponsors will be leaving this afternoon for the annual Student Officer's Retreat at Lakeview Village, McCall, Idaho.

This year's retreat has been enlarged to include all members of the student council, class presidents, club presidents and treasurers, society presidents and program chairmen. Sponsors are: Dr. and Mrs. Riley, Dean Thelma Culver, Orrin E. Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leupp and Miss Helen Wilson.

The purpose of the retreat is to help student officers in making plans for the school year. School issues will be discussed in various small and large discussion periods. Darrel Reisch, ASB prexy, has appointed group leaders who will guide the discussion periods. Finance, social activities, and student entertainment are among problems already on the agenda.

The group will stay over-night at McCall and will return to the campus sometime Saturday evening.

Last year's retreat proved to be of great value to student officers and it is believed that with an enlarged number of participants, this year's meeting will be even more successful.

Calendar Committee Meets

A meeting of the calendar committee was held Monday afternoon at 3:30, when plans were made for the entire semester. The most important points discussed were the Friday evening activities and the varsity basketball schedule, which was completed.

After the next meeting of the student council the dates of the Tuesday evening clubs will be added to the calendar. The members of the committee are Thomas Leupp, Chairman, Dr. Culver, Orrin Hills, Rev. Stowe, Double E. Hill, Paul Kunkel, Virgil Vail, and Joe Michel, representing the student body.

KROK Signs On With New Program

With the motto, "Best Ever," KROK signed on the air Thursday evening. According to the manager, Gene Hansen, every attempt has been made by the staff to make this the best year KROK has ever had.

Many hours of work have been put into the new program schedule, the careful training of announcers, and the production of programs.

The staff welcomes the suggestions and criticisms of all students and reminds you that for the best listening it is 740 kc. on your dial. For a complete program schedule please clip the ad on page four.

Why Retreat

Sometimes it is necessary to retreat in order to plan new methods of attack.

General MacArthur found it necessary to leave the Philippines for awhile, in order to build his army and navy into one that could launch a successful assault upon the enemy.

The Lord allowed the Children of Israel to be taken captive, in Jerusalem, and to be carried into Babylon. During the exile preparation was made for their return and peace.

This afternoon your student body officers leave for McCall where they will discuss the problems of student government. In an environment that is free from other demands each issue will be discussed thoroughly.

Only as we cooperate in this and other student body activities throughout the year, can we hope to pave the way to a better year for all.

To paraphrase those famous words of General MacArthur, "We will return." We will return prepared to better handle the problems of our Associated Student Body in 1955-1956.

Twenty-Six College Students Disappear

By Jan Johnson

Of course you've all read headlines: "Twenty-six College Students Disappear in Mystery." Who hasn't? What you don't know is that it isn't a mystery. I saw them leave for the moon with Mr. Smith right after chapel yesterday. I ran until my heart choked in my throat, but I couldn't reach Betty's convertible.

The reason it's a mystery is because nobody here will listen to me. They just frown and say, "better get some sleep." But there's no time for sleep! Why, tomorrow Mr. Smith may appear in your psychology class with his act — or maybe it'll be your economics class. Anyway, then you'll be up in the moon with the other Nampa kids. Locked in square boxes, jammed in tight, and nobody will hear you yell for help.

In one way I don't blame you for not believing that Smith is real. But I'm real — I saw Mr. Smith with my own eyes. I saw that convertible.

I thought I'd follow, but when I looked back over my shoulder, the circles began spinning so fast that I couldn't see them turn, and the ship was off the ground. Then it zoomed away so fast that my eyes couldn't follow its upward flight.

I saw it only once again right against the flat of the moon. It looked like a silver dollar with the edges worn thin.

That's all. And now you don't believe it, and the editor doesn't believe it, nobody does! You don't understand that Mr. Smith is not a man that you can shoot and then forget. I think he'd catch the bullets in his fingers and then throw them back. He's real but he's an illusion of trinkets, of sporty cars, he deceives you about the time that you spend doing nothing, the time and energy that you waste on profitless things. I know this much: When I tried to jump him, I couldn't move. It was only when I met him squarely and said, "there's a better way", that he was afraid. He was scared I'd make him melt altogether until he was just the illusion he deserves to be.

That's the way we can lick Mr. Smith. Throw his cheap trinkets back in his face and tell him you've got your mind on bigger things. On bright cities built above the crumbled dust of ignorance and fear; where hunger and prejudice are unknown and freedom and equality are as real as water. Maybe that way we'll win back the kids of Nampa. And win a world, too.

Student Government Depends Upon You

By Darrell Reisch

Today the student officers leave for McCall, Idaho for the annual officer's retreat, sponsored by the Associated Student -body council.

I wonder what we will be thinking nine months from now, looking back over the past year? Will the year be judged poor, fair, good or exceptional?

On what does the success of this year depend? Do you know? You elected the student-body officers for their leadership abilities. These officers must be good for an excellent year, but I don't think the entire success of the year rests on their shoulders.

Where, then, does the responsibility rest? I think it depends, to a great extent, upon the students themselves. You elected officers to lead you, but of what account is a leader without followers. A leader without followers will have a success quotient of about zero.

By the end of May 1956 we will be judging the past nine months almost entirely upon the co-operation of each member of the student body. Without your help the officers' year will be a complete failure.

Let's dig in and make this year the best ever, shall we? The success of the student government of 1955-1956 depends upon you!

Do We Need Our Ears Scrotched?

By Marvin Brunson

I once had a dog who loved to have his ears scratched. He would wag his tail in great joy while someone was scratching them. But stop scratching, and he would stop wagging.

He was happy only when someone was amusing him. Like all such animals, he lacked the ability to be content by himself.

Man has access to that ability. But he doesn't use it as he should. Americans are switching to commercial amusements to keep them happy. Here at N.N.C. we get our "ears scratched" constantly. Many functions are organized just to make us happy (or so it seems). When a laugh is needed the student goes to the Bean, or to his roommate — at least he goes. He isn't content to stay where he is.

But the time comes for classes; for studying; and for routine work. Then we can't stop to have our "ears scratched." So we plod dejectedly through our work — and long for an excuse to quit.

The same thing is demonstrated in chapel. As long as the speaker "scratches ears" by telling jokes everyone listens. Then he announces a text. This is the signal to settle down to read or sleep till the bell breaks the monotony.

But we have access to the ability to be happy anywhere — without having our "ears scratched." Jesus said when He left He would send the Comforter. With

TROJAN TALK

By Dave Jackson

Yesterday in the high school prayer and fasting the newly elected president Ray Hendrix, took charge. Ray has come to us by the way of Argentina where his father was our Nazarene missionary. He is a senior and is a very promising spiritual leader.

In most of the high schools around the nation the football season has gotten under way, and has aroused a great showing of school spirit. It isn't any different at College Hi. Last Friday the Trojan grid team began the season right by defeating the Caldwell Sophs, 13 to 7. We were delighted in seeing an unexpected number of supporters, both high school and college students, at an out of town game. Let's keep up this school spirit in backing our team in today's game with St. Teresa.

Him we can be happy, not only in what we want to do, but in what we must do. We do this by realizing that all the little things add up to make a life. All are necessary if they are according to His will.

Why then shouldn't we always be happy if we know that whatever we're doing, it's what God wants?

I believe this is what the Apostle Paul meant when he said he had found how to be content in whatever state he was in. (Phil. 4:11).

The three girls chosen by the College High student body to be cheer leaders for this year are, from left to right, Barbara Peterson, Lucy Cotner and Barbara Keen.

LSPs Down Olys

Intramural softball got off to a fun happy start, Monday, when the LSPs trampled the Olys by score of 12-5.

Things are really bright this year for the LSPs with this crop of new students. They will probably be right in there until the end.

Tuesday's game went the same way. The ADPs tripped the SLA; 2-3. The future of the ADPs looks very good also. They have fine new material.

Don't forget to play off your tennis or badminton matches as soon as possible.

CHS Cheer Leaders Chosen

Tuesday the CHS student body met in a special assembly to choose three cheer-leaders. Six girls tried out. First, they performed in groups of three, then each one took her turn leading the assembly in a yell.

Those trying out were: Pat Hardcastle, Carolyn Eby, Rosemary Markle, Barbara Peterson, Barbara Keen and Lucy Cotner. Those chosen were Barbara Peterson, Lucy Cotner and Barbara Keen.

Marciano KOs Moore

By Wally Johnson

This time it was possible. Archie Moore had the know how, ability and experience. He had trained long and hard and was in top shape mentally and physically. Some thought he was the better boxer. He thought he had the right method.

But, like 42 others before him, Archie Moore couldn't last under the irresistible bombing of the "Brockton Block Buster." The bell rang, and the leather flew and Archie took the 10 count in the ninth round, as the "Rock" won his 49th straight professional fight with his 43rd KO.

With each title defense "Rocky Marciano" rises toward becoming one of the greatest, and most colorful heavy-weight champions in boxing history.

When all has been said, the unwritten law of boxing still holds. "A good little man can't beat a good big man."

Trojans Seek Second Win

The Colleg High Trojans will be after their second win of the 1955 season this afternoon at 4:00 p.m. when they meet the St. Teresa Saints from Boise on the NNC field.

The two Hull twins, Jerry and Larry, scored a touchdown apiece for CHS in the season opener last Friday afternoon as the Trojans downed the Caldwell Sophs, 13-7.

Pat Gilmore and Jim Tindahl started the fad by announcing their engagement the last of May. Emma Lou Bell, a new senior at N.N.C., soon followed suit by becoming engaged to Dirk Dirksen, who is attending Multnomah College in Portland.

The Fourth of July was a big day for Doris Hawk, when Bob Downum decided a ring would cause more sensation than a fire-cracker.

Hazel Graham and Glen Beers discovered this summer that they make a fine-looking couple; and Lois Tracy and Paul Ralphs also chose each other as partners for this game of life.

Just before the opening of school, two other couples decided to splurge! Marlene Graves and Don Edwards announced their engagement just a short time before the announcement of LaDonna Nafziger's engagement to John Finkbeiner.

By the way, Florence Cooke and George Humphery thought they might escape our notice by getting married this week, but I saw them off amid showers of rice just last night, Sept. 22, at Fairview Church here in Nampa.

And just to bring this column completely up-to-date, we should mention the summer weddings of Barbara Dobbs to Jerry Wilda at Nampa First Church and Barbara Marsh's marriage to Johnny Lewis during the month of August.

This concludes my summer conquests, but I'm not giving up! This campus is blossoming with live students, so I've got to dash off and show my archery ability.

Big-Little Sister Tea

The "Big Sisters" entertained their "Little Sisters" Tuesday afternoon at the annual Big-Little Sister tea. This tea was the first function of the Associated Women Students this year. The theme of the occasion was, "... and someone called me friend."

Pouring the punch and serving the cake for the event were Mrs. Hays Johnson, Mrs. Guy Sharp, Mrs. Warnie Tippitt, Mrs. Double E. Hill, Mrs. Thomas Leupp, Mrs. Austin McNaught, and Mrs. Francis Reeves.

Musical background was presented by Lenore Heiserman, Kay Van Allen, Marge Clay, and Marilyn Samp. At different intervals throughout the afternoon guests were entertained by vocal and instrumental numbers and readings.

Committees for the tea were headed by members of the A.W.S. council. Officers of the club are president, Berdena Martin; vice-president, Eleanor Horne; secretary, Phyllis Condon; treasurer, Rhoda Klohn; program chairman, Carol Hankins; assistant program chairman, Alda Sandquist; publicity chairman, Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick; chaplain, Helen Franklin; and high school representative Neola Leinweber.

FMB Attendance Up

The first meeting of the Foreign Missions Band was held Sept. 15, at 6:45 p.m. on the chapel platform. Don Bowman, president, gave a welcoming address to our largest attendance of forty people. Pauline Taylor gave a talk on missionary work in Peru.
